Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account, including joint members and authorized signers. What this means for you: When you open an account, we will ask you for your name, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents. It may be necessary for Nymeo to restrict account access or delay the approval of loans pending further verification. Property may be transferred to the appropriate state if there has been no activity within the time period specified by state law.

All joint account members/signers are considered equal owners and joint tenants with the right of survivorship. By signing, I/we acknowledge I/we have read and agree to the information/Disclosure above and consent to adding the joint member(s) to the account.
